

Hints & tips to prepare for an Assessment Centre

On the Day

Make sure you look professional and arrive on time. Know who you're going to meet, what's expected of you and get plenty of rest the night before. Assessment days can be tiring.

Do your research

Get to know us as a company. Research beyond our website, head to one of our stores or investigate our values. Find out what our employees and customers think and then ask yourself "Is Boots right for me?"

Build your skills & experience

It's not easy trying to stand out from the crowd. Get involved in group projects at university or look into taking a part-time job. The greater experience and skills you have, the more confident you'll be at the assessment centre.

Get feedback

Unsuccessful this time around? Don't give up. Ask for feedback and work on developing your skills. Get ready to try again.

Be fabulous

It's your big opportunity to show us the real 'you', so provide your interviewer with as much detail as possible. Boast about your skills and abilities. Leave them feeling like they've met a confident, interesting person with plenty to offer.

Be passionate

It's important to see that candidates believe in what we do and want to be a part of it.

BE YOURSELF

We want to meet the real you during the recruitment process.
